7 DAYS TO LEAD WITH CLARITY

A bite-sized field guide for reflection and real-world action

Begin your day with one prompt, then write down the thoughts it inspires.

Within 24 hours, guide your team through a simple activation.

Seven days later, you'll have reset the way you listen, decide, and lead.

Leader Prompt:

Where am I choosing comfort over clarity?

Team Activation:

Ask your team: “What’s one decision we keep circling, but not making?”
Then commit to one small next step today.

Leader Prompt:

Am I listening to reply—or to truly understand?

Team Activation:

Try a 2-minute “no-interruption” share: Each person speaks while others only listen. Debrief on what was surprising.

Leader Prompt:

What expectation of mine is unspoken, but assumed?

Team Activation:

Run a “clarity check”: Each teammate states one expectation they think you hold. Confirm or correct it together.

Leader Prompt:

Am I rewarding busyness—or progress?

Team Activation:

At your next huddle, replace “What did you do today?” with “What moved the needle today?”

Leader Prompt:

Where is fear disguising itself as “being practical”?

Team Activation:

As a team, name one bold idea you’ve dismissed.
Explore: What would it take to test the idea safely?

Leader Prompt:

What small habit of mine silently shapes my culture?

Team Activation:

Spotlight hidden habits: Each person names one leader behavior that shapes the team (positive or negative). Reflect openly.

Leader Prompt:

What future am I building with today's trade-offs?

Team Activation:

Hold a “future mirror” session: Imagine it’s one year ahead.
What will you thank yourselves for choosing differently today?
