Entertainment

Think about a disappointing end to a movie or book. Rewrite the finale how you wanted to see it.

Write a one- to five-word tagline for a movie about your life. Then, write a three-sentence description of the movie.

What was the last magazine cover you saw? Create a narrative about what you think happened behind the scenes that day. Make it fun—or dramatic!

Personal & Professional Development

Rewrite the narrative of an experience that you or a loved one wish they handled differently. Reclaim the story by writing it from the perspective of empowerment and owning your voice.

Create a story about a leader who went backward in their career. Include what happened and why they experienced a setback, as well as where they found a silver lining and how they overcame obstacles.

Write a story about how something you disliked turned into something you can't live without.

Consider a challenge you're experiencing in your life currently. Write it in the form of a podcast script between you and your idol providing advice.

The Future

Write about your future dream life if money or skills weren't a factor.

Describe one day—from dawn to dusk—in your dream life. Write it in third person.

Write about a technology advancement 100 years from today. Write it as if it were a movie trailer.

Lifestyle & Relationships

Change is a fact of life. Develop a story about the little changes in life we often don't notice until years later.

Think about one of your childhood friends. Write a series of snapshots of your time together as if it was a short film.

Develop a short story about a life-changing event and your character's journey from uncertainty to a deeper sense of self.

Think: becoming a parent, quitting a job, ending a long-term relationship, health diagnosis, changing lifestyle/diets, etc.

Think about a life you've never lived. Now write about someone who is living it in the form of three first-person journal entries.

Health & Wellness

Write about the last time you developed a habit (positive or one you want to kick). How did it become routine? How did it change aspects of your day to day?

Create a blog article depicting what you view to be an optimal five-step morning routine for enhanced well-being.

What does health and wellness mean to you? What does it look like?

Business & Money

Write a fictional article about the creation and success (or failure) of a unique, niche-specific business. Include quotes from the customers and business owner(s).

Write a blog about the creation and success of a business you've always dreamed of. How did you get there?

Create a short story about a dollar bill, from its creation to its final days when it's wrinkly and torn. What has it seen? Where did it go? Whose hands did it pass through?

Write a poem about what you would do if you won the lottery.
